

Volunteering

Salvos Legal Humanitarian serves those most in need in the provision of access to justice. Without our volunteers we would not be able to service the needs of our humanitarian clients who come from diverse communities and regions across New South Wales.

As a volunteer within Salvos Legal you will be given the opportunity to expand your knowledge and experience, be mentored by experienced administrators, solicitors and migration agents, and gain great satisfaction from your achievements.

Areas of Practise

Advice Bureaus

Solicitor, RMA, Paralegal, Administrative Assistant and Interpreter volunteers attend our Advice Bureaus in Sydney and Brisbane to assist in the delivery of free legal advice to clients in the areas of family, immigration, refugee, child protection, criminal and administrative law.

Headquarters

Salvos Legal Humanitarian practises in the areas of family, immigration, refugee, child protection, criminal and administrative law. We commonly appoint volunteers to the position of Law Clerk.

Solicitors interested in volunteering are able to undertake internships in the humanitarian firm. The internship involves a four month full time placement on a voluntary basis, where solicitors work on humanitarian matters under the supervision of our lawyers.

Volunteer appointments in other capacities than those listed above are determined on a case by case basis. If you fall into this category, please outline your circumstances in your cover letter.

Submitting your Expression of Interest

All expressions of interest are considered on a quarterly basis and you will be contacted if successful. Please note that documentation sent by post will not be considered.

To express your interest in a volunteer position with Salvos Legal please submit the following documents:

1. Completed Expression of Interest Form;
2. Brief cover letter (no more than one page); and
3. Your curriculum vitae.

Please ensure all attachments contain your full name in the file name. Please send your expression of interest by email, with the subject line 'Volunteer Expression of Interest: [Your Name]', to:
